Theme of the event:

Empowering Government School Students for Tomorrow focuses on providing knowledge, guidance, and motivation to students from economically weaker sections. The theme emphasizes building confidence, skills, and awareness about future educational and career opportunities. It aims to prepare young learners to overcome challenges and shape a brighter, successful tomorrow through education and support.

Detailed Report:

The Department of Commerce organized an Extension Institutional Social Responsibility (ISR) Activity for Government School students at Alur Grama on 22nd February 2026. Prior permission had been formally obtained from the Government School authorities to ensure the smooth conduct of the program. The initiative was undertaken with the objective of empowering young students through motivation, educational engagement, and community outreach. The team departed from the college campus by college bus and reached the school at 9:55 AM. The session formally commenced at 10:20 AM in a well-organized manner. The program began with a warm welcome and introduction by the faculty members, who explained the purpose of the visit and highlighted the importance of education in shaping a bright future. This was followed by the introduction of the department students, which helped create a friendly, interactive, and comfortable atmosphere among the school children.

The program commenced with an entertaining and meaningful skit performed by our students. The skit was presented with great confidence, coordination, and creativity, which made it very engaging for the school children. The students thoroughly enjoyed the performance, and their smiles and applause reflected their happiness and excitement.

Following the skit, we organized a series of fun-filled games for a total of seventy-one students. To ensure smooth management and equal participation, the students were divided into three groups: 1st and 2nd standard, 3rd and 4th standard, and 5th, 6th, and 7th standard. This grouping helped us conduct the games systematically according to their age and understanding level.

We conducted various interesting games such as the Chocolate Running Race, Passing the Ball, Musical Chair, Pick and Act, Lemon and Spoon Race, and Balloon Balancing Game. Each game was designed to encourage teamwork, coordination, confidence, and sportsmanship among the students. The children participated with great enthusiasm, energy, and competitive spirit.

For every game, one winner and one runner-up were selected and appreciated with prizes. The distribution of prizes motivated the students and made the event even more memorable for them. Overall, the activities created a joyful atmosphere filled with laughter, learning, and excitement, making the day truly special for all the participants.

To make the session lively and meaningful, the department students performed four well-prepared skits focusing on educational values, self-confidence, social awareness, and moral lessons. The skits combined both informative and entertaining elements, capturing the attention of the young audience. The performances were highly appreciated and received with enthusiasm and applause from the school students. In addition, interactive games were organized to encourage active participation and involvement. The games created excitement and fostered teamwork among the children. Prizes were distributed to both winners and runners-up as a token of encouragement and appreciation.

As part of the ISR initiative, essential stationery items such as notebooks, pens, and pouches were distributed to the students. The children expressed immense happiness and gratitude upon receiving these materials. The program concluded with the distribution of snacks to all students.

A memento was presented to the Government School by the Head of the Department. The event concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by the Headmaster, who appreciated the sincere efforts and social commitment of the department and its students. Overall, the ISR activity was a meaningful and successful initiative that strengthened community bonds and inspired young minds.
